DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to because there are two Figure 1s. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

Art Unit: 3765

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

3. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

Paragraph 22 needs to be rewritten due to numerous errors. The following are few examples.

"comprises and a" reads awkwardly. "guard 7. drives the" reads awkwardly. "A motor 11 drum 10 with rotational movement" is an incomplete thought. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

4. Claim 19 is objected to because of the following informalities: Line 3, as written, it reads awkwardly. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 13-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wepfer et al (6374152).

Wepfer teaches a yarn cleaner for cleaning out defects from a yarn in the measuring head of which at least one yarn parameter is measured for which cleaning limits are determined, exceeding which signals a defect in the yarn, such as short thick locations, long thick locations, short thin locations, long thin locations, and periodically recurring defects (Abstract). In regards to measuring the webs and effects of a yarn, claim 15 shows that only one may be performed.

As such, a device such as that of Wepfer would remove imperfections in the effect, which would be signaled by higher than expected diameters.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 16-22 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. Specifically the structure of these claims requires the consideration of both the web and the effect at the same time.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hoeller (20020062775), Hoeller (6922604), Nakade et al (5592849), Pidoux et al (5537811), and Aemmer (4430720) all teach what is well known in the art.
